

English Course List for Fall semester 2019

Hallym University

Last updated: 22 July 2019

Course No	Department	Course Name	Credit	Instructor	Language	Course Description	Full Description	Class Hours
209906	<input type="checkbox"/> Media Communications	Media Audiences and Effects	3	Michael PRIELER	English	Media, Audiences, Effects teaches students how to evaluate media effects research and better understand the role media play in our everyday lives.	click here	Tue B Thur B
900398	<input type="checkbox"/> Media Communications	Consumer Behavior	3	Seok min HONG	English	An understanding of the needs and behaviors of consumers is an intrinsic component of the development and implementation of successful marketing actions. During the classes, specific topics address the consumer decision process, internal and external influences on consumer behavior.	click here	Tue C Thur C
691005	<input type="checkbox"/> Korean Studies <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Korean Film and Literature	3	Ivan CANADAS	English	This course, as part of the Korean Culture Studies program - 한국학전공 - is intended as an English-language introduction to an area of Korean culture, which would otherwise be difficult to access for students not fluent in Korean language. Literature and film provide considerable insight into the soul of a vibrant, modern society and its competing, evolving cultural voices. Though necessarily eclectic, the selection of material aims to answer pertinent questions troubling the modern citizen, to satisfy cultural curiosity and also to promote and inspire further study and research into a living field, essential to understanding our world, in this region and beyond. Though necessarily selective, the course material has been chosen with the aim of answering pertinent questions troubling the modern citizen, to satisfy cultural curiosity and also to promote and inspire further study and research into a living field, essential to understanding our world, in this region and beyond.	click here	Tue E Thur E
680048	<input type="checkbox"/> Economics <input type="checkbox"/> International Business <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	International Financial Markets	3	한영욱	English	Main objective of this course is to provide a background in international finance for those who expect to obtain jobs created by international investment, international banking, and multinational business activity. The course will develop a framework useful for understanding financial flows in the international economy. Balance of payments, models of exchange rate determination, and related empirical evidence are examined. It analyses the choice and coordination of exchange rate regimes. It examines exchange rates as one of the sources of global financial instability. The course also explores the links to current developments such as the recent global financial crisis.	click here	Tue E Thur E
680054	<input type="checkbox"/> Management <input type="checkbox"/> International Business <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Financial Management I	3	조규성	English	This is an introductory course in corporate finance. This course provides students with the fundamental principles of finance and their applications. The topics include time value of money, discounted cash flow, pricing of bond and equity, and capital budgeting.	click here	Mon 7&8 Wed 7
680060	<input type="checkbox"/> Economics <input type="checkbox"/> International Business <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Senior Seminar in International Trade and Business	3	신유경	English	In this course, we will study the functioning of the international economy. Topics will include (but are not limited to) theoretical principles that govern international trade, empirical evidence of world trade patterns and policies in industrialized and developing countries, and trade deficits and surpluses.	click here	Tue C Thur C
680077	<input type="checkbox"/> Economics <input type="checkbox"/> International Business <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Intermediate Microeconomics II	3	조동훈	English	This is designed as an intermediate course in Microeconomics. Knowledge of basic concepts is assumed, and new tools are developed to analyze individual decision making under constraints. We will look into consumer and firm maximization problems, and some game theory fundamentals at the end of the quarter. Most of the topics will include theoretical derivations as well as real life applications.	click here	Mon 3&4 Wed 3
680104	<input type="checkbox"/> Economics <input type="checkbox"/> International Business <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Global Business Project (Capstone)	3	조창익	English	Students interested in this course must have the following experience. Taken prerequisite courses up to at least sophomore level business courses in economics, marketing, management, accounting, finance, and HR.	click here	Fri 5&6&7
680079	<input type="checkbox"/> Economics <input type="checkbox"/> International Business <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Intermediate Macroeconomics II	3	노석재	English	This class integrates the insights of Keynesian and classical macroeconomic theories. Even though Keynes's General Theory provides the foundations for the current understanding of economic fluctuations, it is important to remember that the classical economics provides the right answers to many fundamental questions. In particular, this class studies many of the ideas of Keynes and the new Keynesians necessary for understanding economic fluctuations.	click here	Mon 1&2 Wed 1
685004	<input type="checkbox"/> Legal Informatics & Forensic Science <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Introduction to Digital Forensics	3	JAMES ISAAC JOSHUA	English	This course is an introduction to digital forensic investigation. We will learn what digital forensic investigations are, and when they can be used. We will focus on using digital forensic tools for the collection, preservation and analysis of data. The class will focus mostly on disk and memory recovery and analysis, but will also touch upon malware analysis, database and email investigation, and mobile device forensics.	click here	Mon 1&2 Wed 1&2
685014	<input type="checkbox"/> Legal Informatics & Forensic Science <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Criminal Investigation	3	박노섭	English	For information about this course, please click on the link >.	click here	Mon 1&2 Wed 1

Course No	Department	Course Name	Credit	Instructor	Language	Course Description	Full Description	Class Hours
685018	<input type="checkbox"/> Legal Informatics & Forensic Science <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Network Security & Forensics	3	JAMES ISAAC JOSHUA	English	This course will introduce students to network security, incident response and network forensic investigations. Students will learn how to plan and configure sensors for networking monitoring, as well as how to respond to incidents that are detected. Through this course, students will learn basic concepts related to cybercrime investigations.	click here	Wed 3&4 Thur 3&4
685019	<input type="checkbox"/> Legal Informatics & Forensic Science <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Cybercrime	3	장윤식	English	For information about this course, please click on the link >.	click here	Mon 7&8 Wed 7
685020	<input type="checkbox"/> Legal Informatics & Forensic Science <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Crime & Investigative Psychology	3	이윤정	English	The 'crime and investigative psychology' is established to acquire basic psychological theories and concepts which related to especially crime and investigation. With this basic knowledge, some criminal case would be dealt with. You can learn how psychology is applied to criminal cases including investigative process. the main psychological aspects would be as following: psychological profiling, accuracy of witnesses' testimony, lie detection(analysis of behavior, statement validity assessment etc.), cognitive bias as halo effect, confirmation bias etc,	click here	Tue D Thur D
685025	<input type="checkbox"/> Legal Informatics & Forensic Science <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Crime & Punishment	3	박노섭	English	Criminal law is the body of law that relates to crime. It proscribes conduct perceived as threatening, harmful, or otherwise endangering to the property, health, safety, and moral welfare of people inclusive of one's self. Most criminal law is established by statute, which is to say that the laws are enacted by a legislature. This course covers selected topics in substantive criminal law: principles underlying the definition of crime such as the requirements of actus reus and mens rea and general doctrines such as ignorance of fact and ignorance of law, causation, attempt, complicity and conspiracy.	click here	Tue A Thur A
691003	<input type="checkbox"/> Korean Studies <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Encounters with Korea	3	RAY ALLEN BRUCE	English	Students enrolled in this course will receive a fundamental grounding in understanding and surviving in modern Korea. This functions as a broadening of their international perspective regarding how to interact within a culture that can at times be quite alien to their own. Through seven types of encounters, they can directly develop the tools for understanding and navigating through it harmoniously.	click here	Wed 4 Fri 3&4
691004	<input type="checkbox"/> Korean Studies <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies <input type="checkbox"/> International Business	Fundamental Issues for International Business in Korea	3	FREY BRITT FRANKLIN	English	This is a survey course that introduces various issues important to anyone wanting to study or engage in international business in Korea. Some topics included are: contracts, international business law, modern Korean corporate structures, historical and philosophical influences on modern Korean business culture, and major international corporations and their current operations in Korea.	click here	Tue B Thur B
691007	<input type="checkbox"/> Korean Studies <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Sociological Perspectives on Modern Korea	3	이기홍	English	This course is designed to give international students a better understanding of what is and what makes Korea. Students will look at various aspects of life in Korea from the viewpoint of sociology and cultural history.	click here	Mon 8 Wed 7&8
691008	<input type="checkbox"/> Korean Studies <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies <input type="checkbox"/> International Business	Korean Economy: Dynamics and Future	3	조창익	English	This course is basically designed to disseminate the knowledge on how Korea has been growing historically since early 1960s until recently. The topics include overview of economic growth in Korea, by dividing the time periods such as 1950-1961, 1961-1970s, 1980s, 1990s, Asian financial crisis with social and economic restructuring afterward, and 21st century. On top of a series of government driven economic planning, the course will highlight the pattern changes in industrial structure, labor relations, and social impacts. And the course will discuss the future trends in the aspects of ICT, industrial revolution 4.0, etc. Also, this course will focus on the foreign students and Korean students interested in Korean economy and business so as to make them think and analyze the core issues on Korean economic growth, unique patterns of economy including the positive and negative impacts of conglomerate firms such as Samsung, LG, SK, etc. Also the course will investigate the dark sides of economic growth that the Korean society and economy has been facing such as income inequality, aging population, economic downturns, and so forth.	click here	Mon 1&2 Wed 1
691009	<input type="checkbox"/> Korean Studies <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Korea and International Relations in East Asia	3	양기용	English	With admirable economic growth, a major power shift in progress, long-standing crises, the second, third, eleventh of the world's largest economies, the rivalry between China and Japan, and the identity clash, Northeast Asia is one of the most dynamic regions in world economy and politics. For example, China, Japan, and Korea comprise 70% of the US trade deficit. The aim of this course is to introduce and analyze the international relations of Northeast Asia with a focus on China, Japan, and Korea. This course will examine the dynamics of conflict and cooperation, introducing competing explanations for key issues in East Asia's international relations. Some of the main questions we will dwell on in the course are focused on but not limited to: the challenges that Japan and Korea face with the rise of China in the dynamics of both security and economy, ongoing territorial disputes that strongly affect trade and cooperation among the countries in the region, economic rivalry reflected in the dynamics of trade, the experiences of the two financial crises (Asian Financial Crisis and the Global Financial Crisis) and the contest of currencies, U.S. economic and security interests in the region, the two Koreas and the question of unification, the ramifications of leadership changes that have occurred in Northeast Asian nations, and the rivalry between China and Japan, Japan-South Korea identity clash, and their implications for cooperation or conflict in the wider context of East Asia and international order. This course will examine the dynamics of conflict and cooperation, introducing competing explanations for key issues in Korea's foreign policy and East Asia's international relations.	click here	Tue 9 Wed 5&6

Course No	Department	Course Name	Credit	Instructor	Language	Course Description	Full Description	Class Hours
691010	<input type="checkbox"/> Korean Studies <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	Current Issues in Modern Korean Society	3	이지연	English	The Current Issues in Modern Korean Society introduces students to issues that influence our life in this global, multicultural society. Students will read about and research current economic, political, social, and cultural problems of Korea, and explore how ongoing conflicts affect groups as well as individuals.	click here	Wed 3 Fri 1&2
009072	<input type="checkbox"/> International Studies <input type="checkbox"/> General Education	BASIC KOREAN	3	이재선	English	This course is for the students who have not learned Korean previously. This course will allow you to understand how Hangeul works. With a brief explanation of the background history, you will learn how to read, write and speak Korean properly in daily life.	click here	Tue A Thur A
00 4112	<input type="checkbox"/> General Education	Issues in Modern Society	2	안정현	English	For information about this course, please click on the link >.	click here	Tue B Thur B
004049	<input type="checkbox"/> International Business <input type="checkbox"/> International Studies	ENTREPRENEURSHIP AND VENTURE BUSINESS	3	황정태	English	For information about this course, please click on the link >.	click here	Tue B Thur B
010008	<input type="checkbox"/> Education <input type="checkbox"/> English Language & Literature	CURRICULUM STUDY IN ENGLISH	3	이종일	English	"If you are a native speaker of English, or have strong English Language ability, this course is not really suitable for you" This course is an introduction to the teaching of English language. The course is intended for those who consider teaching as their future career. Through the semester, students will be exposed to various approaches and methods for teaching English language and be provided with opportunities to develop a comprehensive view of conceptions of teaching English in an English as a foreign language context. Students are expected to search for implications for practical applications resulted from the comprehensive exploration and discussion. The course will cover history of English teaching methods, current trends in teaching English, principles in teaching and learning, and consideration of contexts in teaching and learning	click here	Tue E Thur E
102303	<input type="checkbox"/> Education <input type="checkbox"/> English Language & Literature	ENGLISH & AMERICAN POPULAR NOVEL	3	CANADAS IVAN	English	In this course, we will explore British and American fiction written for or popular with large numbers of readers. Looking at these texts, we will discuss specific issues and skills relating to the study of literary texts, such as different mechanisms and strategies these texts use to tell their stories. At the same time, we will also pose larger theoretical questions: what are the specific ways popular fictions are received and appropriated by their audiences?; what are the social functions of popular fictions?	click here	Tue C Thur C
102353	<input type="checkbox"/> Education <input type="checkbox"/> English Language & Literature	SHAKESPEARE AND RENAISSANCE LITERATURE	3	CANADAS IVAN	English	This is an introduction to the drama of Shakespeare's time. It traces the development of English drama during the late-Elizabethan and Jacobean periods from the late 1590s to the 1610s. Our course will examine famous examples of the drama, representing comedy, tragedy and romance (tragicomedy). There will be some detailed reference to ancient, classical models of drama, as well as the development of theatrical conventions: customs and practices on the stage by the actors, and expectations and assumptions in which the audience collaborated, and the kind of occasion in which tragic plays were conducted, or, indeed, celebrated. Students will also be introduced to the language of Shakespeare and his contemporaries by looking at key-scenes in the original texts, and they are also encouraged, in their own time, to read the plays in Korean translations, which will be made available for all three texts in the reader. In addition, they will watch film adaptations of the plays, in order to familiarize themselves with the ideas of plot, characterization and the particularities of theatrical performance. Material will be provided, detailing the history and conventions of the theater in that period. Students should, therefore, complete this course with an appreciation of these exciting dramatic works and their place in literature. Although there will be brief references and discussion of other material from the early modern period, the primary focus of the course will be on three plays by Shakespeare: Twelfth Night. Othello. Cymbeline.	click here	Mon 5&6 Wed 5
102354	<input type="checkbox"/> Education <input type="checkbox"/> English Language & Literature	BRITISH & AMERICAN LITERATURE AND FILM	3	CANADAS IVAN	English	For information about this course, please click on the link >.	click here	Mon 1 &2 Wed 1
102400	<input type="checkbox"/> Education <input type="checkbox"/> English Language & Literature	Introduction to English Composition	3	안정현	English	"Only students who use English as their second language may join this course" This class is an introductory, practical course in writing, focusing on the sentence, the paragraph and how these building blocks can be used to produce short, coherent reports and essays. Students will use a reader, comprising most of the material needed, and they will be provided with additional material as required. Evaluation will depend on the completion of written tasks, as well as on attendance and participation. Participants will have the opportunity to acquire a sound grasp of grammatical correctness and argumentative vocabulary and style. By completing supervised writing tasks, students to acquire a sound grasp of grammatical correctness and argumentative vocabulary, essential to the ultimate goals of clarity and accuracy in academic writing. Students will learn how to present evidence and how to document sources; they will explore writing for different audiences, and will receive guidance and feedback on an ongoing basis.	click here	Mon 3&4 Wed 3

Course No	Department	Course Name	Credit	Instructor	Language	Course Description	Full Description	Class Hours
102410	<input type="checkbox"/> Education <input type="checkbox"/> English Language & Literature	English Presentation	3	박미경	English	"Priority will be given to freshman students within Hallym English department" If places remain exchange students are welcome to join the class" The aim of the course is to help students to prepare and deliver a successful oral presentation in English. This will be done by learning useful expressions and techniques for various English presentations, and practicing both verbal and non-verbal forms of communication in English, such as gesturing, voice projection, and the use of visual aids and props. Students will be asked to articulate their ideas individually as well as with group members, and give peer feedback. By critically evaluating on their own progress as well as their peers, students will develop their English presentation skills.	click here	Tue D Thur D
209560	<input type="checkbox"/> Education <input type="checkbox"/> English Language & Literature	Asian Cinema	3	김신동	English	For information about this course, please click on the link >.	click here	Mon 7&8 Wed 7
005022	<input type="checkbox"/> Chemistry	GENERAL CHEMISTRY AND LAB. II	3	NIMSE SATISH BALASAHEB	English	This course is designed for the biomedical students so that they can use the knowledge of organic chemistry to understand various biochemical reactions. Students will learn various concepts such as significant figures, mole, Molarity, Acids and Bases, electrolytes, Buffers etc.	click here	Wed 7&8 Fri 5&6
005022	<input type="checkbox"/> Chemistry	GENERAL CHEMISTRY AND LAB. II	3	NIMSE SATISH BALASAHEB	English	This course is designed for the biomedical students so that they can use the knowledge of organic chemistry to understand various biochemical reactions. Students will learn various concepts such as significant figures, mole, Molarity, Acids and Bases, electrolytes, Buffers etc.	click here	Wed 7&8 Fri 7&8
005022	<input type="checkbox"/> Chemistry	GENERAL CHEMISTRY AND LAB. II	3	NIMSE SATISH BALASAHEB	English	This course is designed for the biomedical students so that they can use the knowledge of organic chemistry to understand various biochemical reactions. Students will learn various concepts such as significant figures, mole, Molarity, Acids and Bases, electrolytes, Buffers etc.	click here	Mon 1&2 Wed 4&5
503332	<input type="checkbox"/> Chemistry	English Reading in Chemistry	3	NIMSE SATISH BALASAHEB	English	This course emphasizes the important topics of chemistry in day to day life. Students will gain a knowledge on critical reading of articles. Students will learn and practice about, 'how to read and summarize a given article'. Students will be required to write summaries at the end of each article (homework) and a movie clip (in the class room). Students will be required to keep a log-book of their work and they will also present a 15-minute talk on their topic at the end of a semester.	click here	Tue A Thur A
506226	<input type="checkbox"/> Chemistry	Electromagnetism	3	방성근	English	Students will understand the fundamental principles of electromagnetic phenomena and the nature of electromagnetic waves. Students will acquire the ability to understand electromagnetic analysis via mathematical, numerical and experimental ways.	click here	Tue 5&6 Thur 5&6
506226	<input type="checkbox"/> Chemistry	Electromagnetism	3	방성근	English	Students will understand the fundamental principles of electromagnetic phenomena and the nature of electromagnetic waves. Students will acquire the ability to understand electromagnetic analysis via mathematical, numerical and experimental ways.	click here	Tue 7&8 Thur 7&8
506527	<input type="checkbox"/> Chemistry	Introduction to Organic Chemistry	3	NIMSE SATISH BALASAHEB	English	For information about this course, please click on the link >.	click here	Tue C Thur C
509107	<input type="checkbox"/> PE	READINGS OF ENGLISH TECHNOLOGY	2	곽창수	English	The purpose of physical education all aspects of application and how to read and understand the ability to learn by learning to life sports leaders and economic leaders of the future qualities to equip.	click here	Wed 5&6

Course No	Department	Course Name	Credit	Instructor	Language	Course Description	Full Description	Class Hours
509511	<input type="checkbox"/> PE	SPORTS FACILITY	2	홍재승	English	This course has been designed with two primary components: (1) the planning, design, and development of sport and event facilities; and (2) the management of sport and event facilities. Course content will cover the following aspects of the management of sport and event facilities: organization and management principles, policy and procedure development, ethical decision making, planning as the key to success, human resource management, management of the marketplace, financial management, risk management, programming, volunteer management, and special event planning. Site visits to various types of facilities will give students practical applications and experiential learning opportunities based on course subject matter.	click here	Tue 7&8

Course No	Department	Course Name	Credit	Instructor	Language	Course Description	Full Description	Class Hours
509512	<input type="checkbox"/> PE	SPORTS INDUSTRY	2	홍재승	English	Sport industry has grown in significance for local government and in particular for cities. Perhaps the largest set of studies in relation to recent literature on sport and the city has focused on economic impacts, and broader evaluations of economic costs and benefits of sport-led development. There have been so many studies and tryouts on sport and economic regeneration which is about the promotion of sporting events.	click here	Thur 5&6
514130	<input type="checkbox"/> Electronic Engineering	Properties of Electronic Materials	3	방성근	English	Electronic materials are closely correlated with major industries of semiconductors, displays, and sensors in Korea. Therefore, the fundamentals on this subject are widely being educated in the fields of Chemistry, Physics, Materials Science & Engineering, and Electrical & Electronic Engineering as well. As an introductory course for semiconductor engineering, the new subject titled 'Fundamentals of Electronic Materials' will provide essential knowledge of various properties of materials and principles of solid-state physics for sophomores in Department of Electronic Engineering, Hallym University. This class will also contribute to systemizing the 'Semiconductors and Circuits' Track course.	click here	Wed 8 Fri 7&8
544306	<input type="checkbox"/> Speech Pathology & Audiology	Cochlear Implants & Special Hearing Aids	3	임덕환	English	The course covers the following basic principles in cochlear implants and special hearing aids: - fundamentals in electrical stimulation of auditory nerves - mapping for cochlear implant systems - key issues rehabilitation programs	click here	Mon 3&4 Wed 3
544331	<input type="checkbox"/> Speech Pathology & Audiology	Central Auditory Processing Disorders&Aging	3	임덕환	English	The course covers basic issues on central auditory nervous system, evaluation and rehabilitation of CAPD, aging in CAS, and clinical CAPD cases. Students are expected to understand: - basic structure and function of CAS - objective & subjective methods of evaluation in CAS - theory of rehabilitation in CAPD - aging in CAS	click here	Wed 2 Fri 1&2
001035	<input type="checkbox"/> General Education	College English4	3	ROBINSON KEITH MICHAEL	English	This is an advanced level English language course designed to strengthen speaking, writing, reading, and listening skills. Students will be expected to participate actively in all class discussions and produce meaningful bodies of work based on the lectures.	click here	Wed 8 Fri 7&8
00 1035	<input type="checkbox"/> General Education	College English4	3	PETERSON JOSHUA	English	For Hallym University students to facilitate more in-depth oral and written communication skills for furthering their careers in academia and in the workforce both in Korea and abroad. Emphasis is on essays and TOEIC	click here	Tue A Thur A
001035	<input type="checkbox"/> General Education	College English4	3	BAEK THOMAS SEUNGWUN	English	Students will develop and polish their practical English skills in various areas including summarizing, describing, giving instructions, and giving opinions.	click here	Tue B Thur B
00 1035	<input type="checkbox"/> General Education	College English4	3	PETERSON JOSHUA	English	For Hallym University students to facilitate more in-depth oral and written communication skills for furthering their careers in academia and in the workforce both in Korea and abroad. Emphasis is on essays and TOEIC	click here	Tue C Thur C
001035	<input type="checkbox"/> General Education	College English4	3	BAEK THOMAS SEUNGWUN	English	Students will develop and polish their practical English skills in various areas including summarizing, describing, giving instructions, and giving opinions.	click here	Tue D Thur D